

Abstract

A stable, palatable solution of Ivermectin in water is provided for the mass medication of animals. The present formulation does not require the use of benzyl 5 alcohol and is stable indefinitely in the concentrated form and for up to 30 days when mixed with water.